Sally Andrew holds a Postgraduate Diploma in Dyslexia and Literacy from the University of York, UK. Sally has been tutoring students with dyslexia for 20 years and has trained many parents and educators in evidence based multisensory interventions for dyslexia. Sally is the director of By Your Side Tutoring.

Bill Hansberry is a Director of Fullarton House and a graduate of levels 1-3 of Teaching Students with Dyslexia. Bill has been teaching students with dyslexia in his private practice for 13 years. Bill is co-developer of the Playberry Dyslexia Solutions Multisensory Literacy Program and is featured in the Australian Dyslexia Documentary 'Outside the Square'.

Karen Hodson is a Director of Fullarton House and is a highly sought after Educational Psychologist with 23 years' experience in supporting students with dyslexia and other learning difficulties. She has conducted thousands of assessments and has extensive understanding of dyslexia across the life span.

This course is designed to provide specialist intervention teachers / tutors, classroom teachers and parents with an understanding of dyslexia as a learning disorder. The main focus will be to introduce participants to content and methodology most effective when tutoring in a tier 3 withdrawal situation. It will also provide participants with knowledge and strategies to teach literacy in the classroom.

This three-day program is based on research (Oakland, Black, Stanford et al., 1998) which indicates that remedial instruction for students with dyslexia must incorporate:

- Highly structured phonetic-instruction training with a heavy emphasis on the alphabetic system.
- Drill and repetition to compensate for difficulties in verbal working memory and orthographic processing.
- Multi-sensory methods to help anchor verbal information through non-language mental representations.
- Learning objectives that are highly sequential because the logic of language structure of English escapes many students with dyslexia.

Comprehension and metacognitive processes need to be taught to assist these students in the conscious use of language rule systems to guide their reading and spelling.

This course combines theory and practice, but practical teaching strategies are the main focus. Observation of Bill teaching children is part of the course. Participants will be given a certificate to verify their attendance and completion of the course. For those seeking further training in the methodology advocated for tutoring students with dyslexia, a Level 2 Course will be conducted at a later date.
